The Detroit Historic District Commission was formed by Detroit Ordinance 161-H in 1976. Its purpose is to ensure the preservation of historically and culturally significant areas of the City which are designated by the City Council as Historic Districts. Citizen members of the Commission are appointed by the Mayor and the Commission is staffed by the City of Detroit Planning and Development Department.

A building permit is required for any exterior changes to a building or site in a designated or proposed historic district. The Historic District Commission administers a building permit application review procedure and may approve or deny based on the appropriateness of the proposed work. Building permits are issued by the Buildings, Safety Engineering and Environmental Department upon approval by the Historic District Commission. In addition to permit application reviews, the Commission is also involved in other matters concerning historic properties, preservation programs, and designation of proposed districts.

WHO IS THE HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION?

The Commission is made up of seven Detroit residents who are appointed by the mayor. These dedicated volunteers are generally residents of historic districts and represent such professions as architects and realtors. They generally meet the second Wednesday of the month beginning at 5:30 PM, to review applications for building permits in historic districts. A call to the Commission office can confirm meeting times and application deadlines.

The purpose of Historic Preservation in the city of Detroit is to:

- Safeguard the heritage of the city by preserving areas in the city which reflect elements of its cultural, social, spiritual, economic, political, engineering or architectural history;
- Stabilize and improve property values in such areas;
- Foster civic beauty and community pride;
- Strengthen the local economy; and
- Promote the use of historic districts for the education, pleasure and welfare of the citizens of the city.

BENEFITS OF LOCALLY DESIGNATING HISTORIC DISTRICT

- Preserve Detroit's neighborhoods, housing stock, and history for future generations of Detroiters.
- May qualify to apply for federal historic tax credits.
- Regulation of exterior changes in neighborhoods including window replacement, ensuring new construction and additions are compatible, and that the historic character of houses and grounds is maintained.
- Prevention of property neglect and demolition by the use of the maintenance by neglect portion of the ordinance that requires owners to repair their properties before they reach such a state of disrepair that they have to be demolished.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What can I do to the inside of my house?

The Commission does not regulate changes to the interior of a house, unless the interior change affects the exterior appearance.

How do I know what colors to paint my house?

The Commission has a publication called Detroit Historic Districts Style and Color Guide that gives the acceptable colors depending on the style of the house. Color charts and instructions are provided by the Commission staff.

Does the Commission review what I do to the back of my house? The Commission is required to review all exterior changes, including those not visible from the street. The entire house, garage and yard contribute to the historic character of the district.

How does the Commission decide whether to approve my project?

The Commission is required to use "The Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings" when deciding whether work is appropriate in a historic district. The Standards are listed on page 13 of this brochure.

"THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR'S STANDARDS FOR REHABILITATION AND GUIDELINES FOR REHABILITATING HISTORIC BUILDINGS"

- 1) A property shall be used for its historic purpose or be placed in a new use that requires minimal change to the defining characteristics of the building and its site and environment.
- 2) The historic character of a property shall be retained and preserved. The removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that characterize a property shall be avoided.
- 3) Each property shall be recognized as a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historical development, such as adding conjectural features or architectural elements from other buildings, shall not be undertaken.
- 4) Most properties change over time; those changes that have acquired historic significance in their own right shall be retained and preserved.
- 5) Distinctive features, finishes, and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a historic property shall be preserved.
- 6) Deteriorated historic features shall be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement of a distinctive feature, the new feature shall match the old in design, color, texture, and other visual qualities, and where possible, materials. Replacement of a missing feature shall be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.
- 7) Chemical or physical treatments, such as sandblasting, that cause damage to historic materials shall not be used. The surface cleaning of structures, if appropriate, shall be undertaken using the gentlest means possible.
- 8) Significant archeological resources affected by a project shall be protected and preserved. If such resources must be disturbed, mitigation measures shall be undertaken.
- 9) New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction shall not destroy historic materials that characterize the property. The new work shall be differentiated from the old and shall be compatible with the massing, size, scale, and architectural features to protect the historic integrity of the property and its environment.
- 10) New additions and adjacent or related new construction shall be undertaken in such a manner that if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic property and its environment would be unimpaired.

HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION GUIDELINES

The Detroit Historic District Commission has established guidelines to assist homeowners, residents, and contractors when planning projects that will affect the exterior of a historic property. These guidelines act as a starting point for alterations and consider protection of the historic property, preservation of a building's integrity and education in regard to the history of the city. Based on research regarding the city's past, the guidelines do not prevent alteration, but assist in keeping a neighborhood's character intact. The following list of guidelines is available from the Historic District Commission staff. "Draft" guidelines have not been officially approved by the State of Michigan and are open to your comments.
